Abstract:

Chinese teachers can be unique “creatures” in many international schools. Getting through the door is the first hurdle. Then how to make a “right blend” of east and west ingredients can be a real challenge. This talk aims to give a few “tricks” on how to be successful Chinese teachers in international schools, including “get me in there”, “let me stay” and “make a perfect brew”.

Guest Speaker:

Ms. Penny Pan is currently the Principal of Chinese Academy at the Canadian International School of Hong Kong. She has over 25 years of experience in teaching Chinese to international schools and universities in Australia, Mainland China, and Hong Kong. During her teaching career, she has taught international students from K-12 within IB, American, British, Canadian, Australian, Singapore, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Mainland China Curriculum frameworks. Ms. Pan also served as curriculum coordinator at Utahloy International School of Guangzhou, Hong Kong Academy, and Hong Kong International School before she joined the Canadian International School of Hong Kong. During her years in all these international schools as the leader of the Chinese program, her key tasks include teacher professional development, curriculum design and alignment, teaching strategies, and teacher leadership. Ms. Pan has served as the visiting team member for CIS /WASC accreditation visiting teams. She holds a Bachelor of Education degree from Australia and a Master’s Degree in Curriculum and Teaching from the US.
